

CHEROKEE GARDEN LIBRARY

Books Based on Research in the Garden Library from 1995–2010

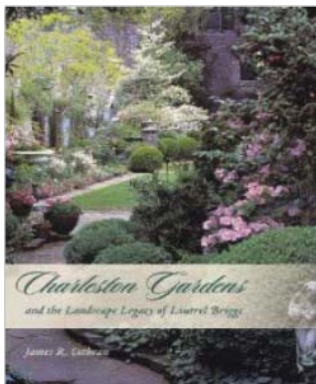

The Garden Library is a valuable resource for researchers – those who are able to visit and work on the premises as well as those outside the area who make special requests. The Director supports researchers from around the world by answering questions and providing copies of book excerpts. Many books, including the examples here, have been written using the collection and research facilities.
