MATRIARCHS IN MARCH

ATLANTA HISTORY CENTER
CENTENNIAL
1926-2026

Schedule of Activities

Women of the Second Wave

Classrooms

Ongoing, Craft

What do we want? Equal rights! When do we want it? Now! Grab a zine and explore trailblazers of the 1960s, 70s, and 80s. Create your own protest button and even get the chance to join their cause and learn all about women of the second wave!

Play Your Part

Gatheround

10:00am, 10:35am, 11:10am, 11:45am

Duration: 25 minutes

The Progressive Era of women's rights hosted many different activists. Some were organizers while others were protesters. What role would you play? Through a "choose your own adventure" story, discover unique ways your personality can contribute to the movement just like historic suffragettes!

Shared Sentiments

Classrooms

10:05am, 10:40am, 11:15am, 11:50am

Duration: 25 minutes

Take a walk through historic events with us to hear the thoughts and opinions of women in the Mid-1800s. Read between the lines to see whose voices were heard and whose were excluded and uncover how women fought against different inequalities to gain their rights.

Enlightened Exchanges

Upper Cyclorama

10:10am, 10:45am, 11:20am, 11:55am

Duration: 25 minutes

Step back in time to the Age of Enlightenment! At our fashionable 1700s salon, we'll discuss the women whose intellects lit up this era of history. By playing cards and writing pamphlets, we'll put these women in conversation with each other and spark new enlightened ideas!

We Can Do It!

Our War Too

10:15am, 10:50am, 11:25am, 12:00pm

Duration: 25 minutes

Discover the stories of women who inspired Rosie the Riveter, fought for women's rights, and lent a listening ear to their community during WWII. From building planes to changing laws, then returning to a post war life, help us put the pieces together about their experiences and get the whole picture!

Matriotism: Celebrating 250 Years of Inspirational American Women Through Quilts

Visual Vault

Ongoing

Explore quilts made by the East Cobb Quilters' Guild and uncover inspirational women across 250 years of America's history through a scavenger hunt. From Rosalynn Carter to Charity Adams Earley, engage with inspirational stories and the legacies they left behind.
